We all know the value of academics in school-age programs. However, it's nearly impossible to get to the academics if you do not have strong connections to the youth. Join us as we explore Youth Development* for school-age programs. Participants will learn key components of youth development, connect to them personally, learn how to implement them in a program, and be able to evaluate the culture of youth development within their program.

*Based on the Community Network for Youth Development Model

Handouts and Refreshments will be provided

Participants will receive a certificate documenting 1 hour of professional growth
